Alca is one of the most successful demonstrations of what can be achieved with cardboard. The secret of this quality lies in its people, in their skilled work and use technology.

Alca's customers can count on the right people and resources to transform each package and display unit into an effective, highly personal sales tool. Why keep a brilliant idea in a drawer when Alca can turn it into reality?

At Alca we are not just executors, but professional and competent experts advising our clients through every phase of the process, from the projects to graphic design. Our most advanced machinery and ability to experiment are combined with care and passion of real top craftsmen.

Last but not least, we are committed to protecting the environment: we strive to create eco-sustainable products, we are part of the first consortium for an eco-sustainable supply chain for printing and pop and we have embarked on a path aimed to meet the standards for B Corp certification.
